

Charter Revision Commission

The Working Public Library deserves special privileges in the town charter. Its role is to provide intellectual and educational materials to the public.
It is often been referred to as "everyman's university."

The library director and library board should have the authority to run and guide its operation.
It is my opinion the library board should evaluate all staff, set standards for material procurement, set hours of operation and control its finances, including all endowment monies.

Thanks you for your consideration,

Carol Sidel
